

Proposed Approach to Science Input

The Science Workgroup recommends the following proposed approach to science:

1. Identify a facilitator and lead scientist using the scope in Handout #2. The facilitator would be expected to bring expertise in development of an NCCP and the lead scientist would be expected to bring expertise in complex science-based planning processes.
2. Have the facilitator with lead scientist work with Steering Committee to form group of science advisors to address scientific input needs and develop the questions for them to consider.
3. Have the facilitator work with the Steering Committee to expand the scope in Handout #2 to include a timeline and as well as additional details on the process.